FIRST COMMUNION AND

A Catechetical Guide for Liturgical Celebrations

ROMAN CATHOLIC ARCHDIOCESE OF BOSTON

"Every form of catechesis would do well to attend to the 'way of beauty.' Proclaiming Christ means showing that to believe in and to follow him is not only something right and true, but also something beautiful, capable of filling life with new splendor and profound joy, even in the midst of difficulties. Every expression of true beauty can thus be acknowledged as a path leading to an encounter with the Lord Jesus. ...So a formation in the way of beauty ought to be part of our effort to pass on the faith."

--Pope Francis (Evangelii Gaudium, 167)

COVER ART: An anonymous traditional ink drawing, typical of the style found in liturgical and devotional books. The Holy Trinity is enthroned in the center: God the Father in regal attire holds his scepter and globe; the risen and victorious Son is depicted as the Paschal Lamb holding a banner of victory; the Holy Spirit is the dove proceeding from both. The Blessed Virgin Mary, Queen of Heaven, stands at her Son's right, while on his left St. John the Baptist points toward Christ, holding a banner proclaiming, "Behold the Lamb of God." The angels and other saints adore the Lord and join in the unending hymn of praise.

Music for
FIRST COMMUNION AND CONFIRMATION
A Catechetical Guide for Liturgical Celebrations

One of the joys experienced by the parish community in the work of evangelization is the handing on of the faith to the next generation. Since this always takes place within a social context, the integration of faith and culture must be considered. Just as each culture is endowed with its own common forms of human expression, so too do Catholics possess a unique cultural heritage through which the faith has been handed down through the ages. A core element of this heritage is the Church's musical tradition, which Vatican II identifies as "a treasure of inestimable value." This treasury is preeminent among other art forms because, "as sacred song united to the words, it forms a necessary or integral part of the solemn liturgy." (Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy, §112)

We therefore offer here a small number of essential hymns chosen for their simplicity, suitability for young voices, timeless musical value, and substantial theological content. Mindful of the power of sacred music to raise hearts and minds to a deeper participation in the sacred mysteries, we encourage you to incorporate some of them into your catechetical programs and liturgical celebrations.

THREE CONSIDERATIONS FOR LITURGICAL MUSIC

In preparing music for the liturgy, there are three essential qualities of liturgical music to consider: holiness, goodness of form, and universality. (Chirograph of John Paul II on Sacred Music, §4-6)

- Holiness: the music should have a clear transcendent dimension, setting in focus the sacred text of the Mass rather than itself. Inspired through prayer, it should lead others to prayer and adoration. While there is much room for variety of melody, harmony, and rhythm, music for the Mass should communicate reverence, and be free of secular associations or other distractions from worship.
- Goodness of form: the music needs to be beautiful regardless of its simplicity or complexity. It is not enough for music to be exciting or entertaining; it must have those elements which raise the heart and mind to God through their clarity, gracefulness, and harmony.
- Universality: although the music will reflect the culture in which it exists, it should nevertheless by its nature be edifying to those from other cultures as well. Liturgical music should communicate the beautiful unity of tradition between the past and present; it should help worshipers to sense and understand their connection to the faithful of all times and places. Furthermore, universality implies that music for the congregation should be singable, fostering exterior participation. Likewise, music sung exclusively by the cantor or choir should prayerfully engage the hearts and minds of the listeners, fostering interior participation.

THE RESPONSORIAL PSALM

“Because [the Responsorial Psalm] is an integral part of the Liturgy of the Word, and is in effect a reading from Scripture, it has great liturgical and pastoral significance.” (Sing to the Lord: Music in Divine Worship, §155) Furthermore, the Book of Psalms was composed as a collection of sung prayers; this ancient musical tradition was immediately assumed into the Christian liturgy.

While there is some leeway with the selection of psalms, it is highly recommended that the psalm used be the one assigned in the lectionary, as it relates more closely to the first reading than any other option. Since we are responding in song to the preceding reading, the setting should be conducive to meditation, allowing the Word of God to take root in our hearts through the action of the Holy Spirit.

While the use of paraphrased psalms has been common, this practice should be avoided as we are singing the scriptures themselves. Therefore, the text should be taken from the lectionary translation, or from the 2010 Revised Grail Translation, approved for liturgical use by the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB).

OFFICIAL MASS SETTING OF THE ARCHDIOCESE OF BOSTON

The chants of the Roman Missal are the official Mass setting for the Archdiocese of Boston. We ask that your parish continue to use these in addition to the settings with which your parish is also familiar. We recommend that you begin with the simplest chants: Lord Have Mercy (Kyrie Eleison), Holy, Holy, Holy (Sanctus), and Lamb of God (Agnus Dei). The following online resources are free:

- Scores are available from ICEL at www.icelweb.org/musicfolder/openmusic.php
- Practice videos are available at www.bostoncatholic.org/newromanmissal.aspx
- Piano, guitar, and organ accompaniments are available at www.rjcceciliamusic.com/free-liturgical-works/accompaniments-icel-chants

“A cry from deep within our being, music is a way for God to lead us to the realm of higher things. As St. Augustine says, ‘Singing is for the one who loves.’ Music is therefore a sign of God’s love for us and of our love for him.”

Praise, My Soul, the King of Heaven

1. Praise, my soul the King of heav - en;
2. Priase him for his grace and fa - vor
3. Fa - ther - like he tends and spares us;
4. An - gels, help us to a - dore Him;

To His feet thy trib - ute bring;
To his chil - dren in dis - tress;
Well our fee - ble frame He knows;
Ye be - hold him face to face;

Ran - somed, healed, re - stored, for - giv - en,
Praise Him still the same as ev - er,
In his hands he gent - ly bears us,
Sun and moon bow down be - fore him,

Ev - er - more His prais - es sing: Al - le - lu - ia!
Slow to chide, and swift to bless: Al - le - lu - ia!
Res - cues us from all our foes. Al - le - lu - ia!
Dwell - ers all in time and space. Al - le - lu - ia!

Al - le - lu - ia! Praise the ev - er - last - ing King.
Al - le - lu - ia! Glo - rious in His faith - ful - ness.
Al - le - lu - ia! Wide - ly yet His mer - cy flows.
Al - le - lu - ia! Praise with us the God of grace.
